Stud Dog Legacy

Have you decided how you are going to preserve your stud dog's frozen semen long term in the event of death or incapacitation? We know that it took your time, effort, and money to collect and freeze your stud's semen for longevity and to preserve his genetic lineage.

The important decision in deciding the long-term care of your valuable genetic line is often overlooked or forgotten about. Most times we are never notified by the next of kin or executor, and if there are no co-owners to be found the semen unfortunately will be disposed of.

Your dog's legacy will be irreplaceable. We cannot stress the importance of making these arrangements not just with us but with all the facilities you have stored frozen semen.

Please be sure to pass a copy to the person(s) you wish to bequeath it to.
